

City of Kings

Lima, the Pearl of the Pacific and three times crowned Villa, is a city in constant growth.

Mix of modernity and tradition, the Peruvian capital, today is the product of a rich fusion of cultures and customs that reflect the idiosyncrasies of the citizens of the various regions that make up Peru, and those foreigners settled in our country.

The Peruvian capital, is home to more than 7 and a half million inhabitants according to 2009 data from the INEI, concentrating almost two-thirds of economic and industrial activity in Peru.

The City of Kings is full of magic and color. Thanks to its historical legacy was declared Cultural Patrimony of Humanity by UNESCO and today is making strides to become a modern and cosmopolitan city.

In Lima concentrate all races, creeds, customs and history of Peru, that give this city a cosmopolitan character.
